

LACKAWANNA COUNTY

New Public Safety and Emergency Management Center (9-1-1)

Jessup, Pennsylvania

SGA provided public safety and communication design consulting services to the local architecture and engineering firm of Highland Associates of Clarks Summit, PA, for a new County Public Safety Center, including a 31,000 SF 9-1-1 and Emergency Management Center. The facility provides command centers, administration and staff support areas, a public lobby, conference center, and state-of-the-art telecommunications and technology equipment, as well as a 250 foot communication tower and new 6-bay garage for emergency vehicles.

Construction complete August 2007
